DMB Associates broke ground today on its newest community, Eastmark. The morning ceremony included a small gathering of partners, DMB Associates executives and East Valley leaders, including Mesa Mayor Scott Smith and Councilman Scott Somers.

“The groundbreaking of our first phase is an important milestone for DMB and a positive indicator for Arizona’s recovering real estate market. The sounds of construction equipment signifies the start of the new heart and hub of the East Valley,” said Charley Freericks, DMB Associates’ President.

Eastmark’s first homes are scheduled for opening in the spring of 2013.
