

Leave Facebook Alone: Timeline Business Cards

Written by Claire Perkins

Leave Facebook Alone

Everyone needs to stop hating on Facebook. I know, I know. There are a lot of changes that aren't probably the most popular, but please. Nothing else compares at this point.

One thing everyone seems to like about the new timeline (maybe the only thing?) are the new cover photos. It's hard not to pretend you're a little creative director magazine publisher, or something.

These little business cards are the jam - they're Facebook timeline- themed! You pick a little profile photo and cover photo, add a quote and your Facebook URL. Moo also offers mini lil business cards, menus, stickers, postcards- the cutest printables ever.

I "Like" this.
