

Hot Sunglasses for Spring

Written by Written by Julia Swem

Thursday, 14 April 2011 10:18 - Last Updated Tuesday, 19 April 2011 10:37

As the weather gets hot, so should your look. Protect your eyes in style with the latest designs from the big name eyewear companies.

Ray-Ban Folding Wayfarer Sunglasses

Finally, there's a pair of sunglasses that fit comfortably in your purse. Ray-Ban Folding Wayfarer sunglasses still maintain all the same iconic lines of the original but have been redesigned into a new functional style. They also come in an array of bright colors that are perfect to get you into the spring spirit.

<http://www.ray-ban.com/usa>

Burberry Spring 2011 Sunglasses

You can't go wrong with anything in the Burberry Spring 2011 Eyewear Collection. This collection goes back to its British roots focusing on function and innovation to give you the perfect pair of sunglasses for the brutal Arizona summer.

<http://us.burberry.com/store/>

Burberry's Oversize Tubular Square Sunglasses

Match the clear blue sky with Burberry's Oversize Tubular Square Sunglasses in Air Force Blue. Oversize square lenses still give you a larger-than-life appearance while avoiding the appearance of a googly-eyed bug, which some oversize round lenses tend to create. They also feature set-in nose pads and tubular arms resulting in chic comfort.

Hot Sunglasses for Spring

Written by Written by Julia Swem

Thursday, 14 April 2011 10:18 - Last Updated Tuesday, 19 April 2011 10:37

Burberry's Round Studded Arm Sunglasses

These sunglasses are the perfect mix of traditional and glam, which makes them suitable for all occasions. These round frame sunglasses come in traditional colors like Tortoise Shell, Red and Haymarket. They may have traditional roots but embrace your glamorous side as well with a sprinkling of mini dome and larger studs. These shades in red because it will give you an air of classic old Hollywood with an underlying spark of danger and sex appeal.

<http://us.burberry.com/store/>

Ray-Ban Vagabond Sunglasses

History always repeats itself. What was a hot style decades ago is still a hot style today if updated correctly. The Ray-Ban Vagabond Sunglasses is a perfect example of this. These sunglasses are the 1950's cat-eye style reinvented to fit the modern times. The lenses have a slight teardrop shape that gives the appearance of a cat-eyed look without exaggerating the style. These sunglasses look great on all face shapes and offer 100 percent UV protection with gradient crystal lenses.

<http://www.ray-ban.com/usa>

