Hair around the Valley Rejoice!

Hair has the ability to change a person's entire look in an instant. It can determine whether or not we have a fabulous day or a not so fabulous day. Our hair is a key accessory to any look we try to achieve. Hair trends are ever so changing. What happens when that perfect a-line bob has been replaced with long, sexy, beach waves? Thankfully, a great mind created hair extensions.

For some women, hair extensions are a must. They can add length and volume to dull and flat hair, completely transforming your look. It's hard to come across a salon that does not use harmful processes during the application of hair extensions. Luckily, women of the Valley have Kristen of KJ Hair Extensions to keep their hair healthy and lusciously long.

Kristen attended one of the most esteemed programs in hair extensions at The Extension Master at The Hair Shop Los Angeles. She has been working wonders in the industry for years with her application of the cylinder extension method. Kristen has obtained the knowledge to understand the specific amount of hair, color blend, and hairline placement a woman may need to achieve her perfect look. It's no wonder why KJ Hair Extensions has grown into a thriving business for so many years.

Kristen uses human hair that is non-processed and remains 100% natural. The extensions range in many different types (Russian Virgin Hair, European Hair, Indian Hair, and Italian Hair). Kristen offers a variety of textures (wavy, slightly wavy, straight, curly, tight curls, and loose curls). As a commitment to healthy extensions and hair growth; Kristen doesn't use glue, heat, infusion or any other harmful processes. The only process she uses is the Extend Tube Pro Flat/Release to keep the cylinder extensions in place. KJ Hair Extensions distributes to any professional stylist or salon that would like to contribute to a safer, more durable, natural hair extension method.

Kristen offers future clients a free consultation to determine the length, thickness, and color to the clients' specific hair type. Clients can enjoy this fabulous service from the comfort of their own home, upon request.
