

Mega-Star Athletes Will be at the Sanctuary Resort for Charity

Written by Sarah Love

Wednesday, 22 February 2012 12:11 - Last Updated Thursday, 23 February 2012 16:36

EXTRA EXTRA!

Escape for Good:

This week, Thursday, February 23rd through Sunday afternoon, February 26th people will be welcomed with an all-inclusive, weekend experience at the Sanctuary Camelback Mountain Resort and Spa to benefit charity. The best part? Celebrity athletes from across the country will be joining them!

We heard that these amazing athletes will be here this weekend: Andre Agessi, Muhammad Ali, Cris Collinsworth, Mia Hamm, Tony Hawk, Jackie Joyner-Kersey, Anothony Munoz, and Annika Sorenstam, many more athletes are still confirming to join this event.

Why? These athletes will join guests in various experiences that each guest can sign up for, including golf, tennis, working out, or just hanging out! How fun, sign us up!

Unfortunately, not only are the weekend packages expensive but also there are only 75 packages that will be offered for the weekend, through invitation-only opportunities. It seems like its worth it though since our favorite renowned Arizona chef Mark Tarbell, Tarbell's Restaurant, will come to the home to prepare dinner. We can't wait to hear details!

Plus, all the proceeds from this amazing weekend package will be given to the Celebrity Fight Night Foundation. What a great way to celebrate and chat with your favorite athletes!